Areas of Concern

White Nationalists' & White Supremacists infiltration of Law Enforcement

Police Transparency

Police Culture of Violence and Silence

Black Identity Extremist Classification

The Lack of Independent Auditors

Crime Data Propaganda used to Justify Law Enforcement

Harming un-armed Blacks

Police Militarization and Over-Policing in Black Communities

Too often, White Supremacists are allocated more money for useless training instead of being removed from the police force

1up Demands to Law Enforcement

Strict punishment for harming unarmed and criminalizing innocent Blacks

Every police officer should live in the community they patrol

Law enforcement agencies should allow community representatives to meet the officers responsible for patrolling their community.

Government officials and law enforcement agencies need to provide a public list of police officers patrolling each community.

Federal and state governments need to address the anti-Black, false claims currently promoted by individual's cherry-picking and misrepresenting crime data to justify the harming of Blacks by law enforcement. The false claim that Blacks are only 13% of the population, yet responsible for 50% of the violent crimes and murders, needs to be publicly denounced by the FBI.

Law enforcement agencies need to be open to receiving quarterly reports cards about officers patrolling Black communities. These evaluations need to come from the people they interact with within our communities. Good evaluations need to come with a reward, and bad evaluations need to come with training or even some sort of punishment.

The expense of funerals of Blacks killed by law enforcement should come out of the salary of the officer responsible for the killing of an unarmed Black person.

Friends of law enforcement should never be allowed to prosecute and partake in investigations.

A standard & more civil way of policing & approaching ALL civilians needs to be developed and implemented nationally.

Stop and Frisk & other despicable forms of profiling needs to be eliminated from police procedures nationally.

Plan of Action

Create Special Community-Policing Units

Individuals who live, work, or otherwise have an interest in the community—including volunteers, activists, formal and informal community leaders, residents, visitors and tourists, and commuters—are a valuable resource for identifying community concerns. These factions of the community can be engaged in achieving specific goals at town hall meetings, neighborhood association meetings, decentralized offices/storefronts in the community, and team beat assignments.

Collaborate Among Community Groups &:

Form a neighborhood/block watch. Have agencies allow community representatives to meet the officers responsible for patrolling each community.

Create a public list of all police officers patrolling each community.

Demand that law enforcement addresses the anti-Black, false claims currently promoted by individual's cherry-picking and misrepresenting crime data to justify the harming of Blacks by law enforcement.

Create and share public quarterly reports cards for officers patrolling each community. Select and support politicians based on their acceptance of these demands and their commitment towards creating legislation and voting for legislation addressing these demands.

Have police agencies outline their standard use of force and address all confusing or controversial procedures.

How to Hit them Where it Matters

The JAG program is the leading source of federal justice funding to state and local jurisdictions. The JAG Program provides states and local governments with critical funding necessary to support a range of program areas. Only vote for state and local politicians who are willing to punish law enforcement agencies who hire and harbor White supremacists by taking away their access to JAG resources. Only vote for state and local politicians who are against the "Department of Defense (LESO) - 1033 Program.” This program fuels the militarization of law enforcement by arming local and state police like soldiers.

Only vote for state and local politicians who are willing to speak out and vote against the “Community Oriented Policing Services,” also known as “COPS.” This program provides grants accommodating numerous law enforcement on the streets and in schools, where they have failed us.

How To Get Started

Reach out to those who may share similar values and establish relationships. Define your community stakeholders. Community stakeholders are people, groups, organizations, or businesses that have interest or concern in the community. Stakeholders can affect or be affected by the community’s actions, objectives, and policies. Present “The 1up Citizens Guide” as the topic of discussion. Create a zoom Conference and discuss implementation and complications of implementation of this guide. Figure solutions and strategic measures of implementation. Recruit community supporters and get organized. Host monthly meetings with residents & establish programs that solicit involvement. Reach out to the youth and establish bicycle and foot patrol protocols. Propose bicycle and foot patrol watches to community stakeholders.

Know the number of supporters and participants who will be needed in your community and determine the number of supplies and the cost of storing those supplies. Establish fair affordable wages for community workers. Once you have the details, roll out the proposal to your community. Establish how many supporters you have and start accepting financial commitments and donations to meet your financial goals. Make sure “all” financial activities are transparent with the community.

Reach out to lawyers and create and line of communication. Find out how much it will cost for their services. Create a propaganda team. (As you can see, this is something that must be financed, but do not be discouraged.) Start the initial work, and the financial support will follow. You can help to raise money by hosting strategic community fundraiser events. Once your team has gained the trust and support of the people, it will make it easier for you to host successful events.

Once your team has gained traction, start fostering dialogue between law enforcement and residents. Develop relationships with the media and use social media outlets such as Facebook, Instagram, YouTube, and Twitter to publicize the objectives and agenda between law enforcement and your community. Identify, recruit, and retain residents with the interpersonal skills necessary to foster relationships with the community.

Send out Community Stakeholders to Interact With Local Law Enforcement

Encourage the community to seek out publications and webinars with local law enforcement regarding civil and constitutional rights, procedural justice, and implicit or unconscious bias. Do this with the understanding that Blacks are often not treated the same under these laws and rights which currently exist.

Demand local and state leaders ensure accountability by law enforcement.

Identify key points of contact to serve as law enforcement and community liaisons during critical incidents to enhance communication and promote the reporting of crime and suspicious activity.

Demand that individual officers responsible for patrolling the community are known to the community and from the community. The people have the right to know who is responsible for protecting them. The easiest way to formulate a relationship between officers and the community is to have patrolling officers engage and participate in community events, meetings, and other activities.

Meet with local law enforcement leaders to hold periodic briefing sessions on the "State of the Community."

Have local law enforcement define their definition of Black Identity Extremists and update the community as to whom they consider being "Black Identity Extremists" and why.

Stakeholders should demand full access to body-worn cameras.
